With 2 D-ring feature

Why?

We have included 2 D-rings for safety and functionality. The first D-ring, positioned at the harness's back near the cat's shoulders, serves as the primary leash attachment point, offering control and preventing escapes.

The second D-ring, typically located on the front near the chest, acts as a secondary safety feature. It aids in training and curbing pulling behaviour by redirecting the cat's motion toward the walker/owner.

These dual D-rings provide flexibility in leash attachment, ensuring a secure and comfortable outdoor experience. Choosing a well-fitting, high-quality harness is crucial for your cat's safety, especially during initial outdoor adventures.
